Senior of the Year

Austin Hudepohl

The Senior of the Year is a prestigious award given out every year to a senior that demonstrates what it is like to be a Colonel. It goes out to someone who shows what Covington Catholic is all about. The recipient is someone who is involved, friends with everyone, a leader, and exemplifies what it is like to have a spirit that will not die.

This year, the running was very close between Neil Kennedy, the school president, and Jake Read, the vice president. Jake Read said that, "This is an honor and I am happy that all my Colonels support me." Jake Read has been a vital part of Covington Catholic since his freshman year. He has always been a leader of his class and would never miss a sporting event. He is friends with everyone and is involved in many different clubs and sports. He has competed in Football since freshman year along with being the president of the Spirit Club. He is also in the Philanthropy Club, Spirit Club, Drug Free Club, Student Senate, and the Community Service Club to name a few.

Congratulations to Jake Read on becoming the Senior of the Year!

Teacher of the Year

Lucas Armor

Voting for the Teacher of the Year Award is an annual event at Covington Catholic High School, and this year they continued the tradition. All of the senior class was given the opportunity to vote for a teacher that they have had in the past four years that they thought made the biggest impact on them.

In recent years, Mr. Haders, the art teacher, and Mr. Hertsenberg, the morality teacher, have always come out neck and neck to win this prestigious award. This year was no different, for it came down to these two teachers once again to see who was Teacher of the Year. In the end, Coach Hertsenberg was the victor by a margin of 4 votes. Coach Herts was heard saying this was an honor, and he loved that his seniors liked him enough to vote for him. When asked about the rivalry between Mr. Haders and him, Coach Herts said that Mr. Haders should win every year, for Coach Herts has every senior in the school, but Mr. Haders only has a select few, so the fact that he is consecutively at the top every year means that his seniors really enjoy him as a teacher.

Mr. Hertsenberg was quoted saying, "I once again enjoy teaching all these seniors, and I really appreciate the vote, so thank you." All of the seniors decided that he was a great choice for Teacher of the Year, and we all hope the tradition of Teacher of the Year continues long after we are long gone.

I, Justin Wolfer, will my car to Ian Dereamer, my height to Matt Lanigan, and my nickname to Jim Nutter.

I, Matt Yeager, will my AP Physics notes to Jim Nutter and my happy dance to no one- none of you are Yeager enough to have it.

I, Nate Zembrodt, will my man cave in the art room to Nick Mason and the metal bars in my chest to Ethan Egbers.

Flapper Anuel Nevels

“Strike up the band, throw off your hat, and have a hotsy totsy ride through the twenties. Happy days are here again!” Flapper the musical came to Notre Dame and CovCath on the weekend of May 5th through 7th. The 1920’s were brought to life on stage, the life of a young flapper named Polly Pepper to be precise. Along for the ride were Junior Eric Torres as the ever charming con Duke of Milford, Senior Anuel Nevels as the tough as nails Lieutenant Fluke, Noah Gripshover and Quenton Floyd as the bouncing Jimmy and Tommy, and the fabulous team of Norb Wessels and Eric Zimmer as the mobsters Cheater Hayes and Muggs O’Toole, with AJ “Scoobs” as the handsome Buck Wayne.

The story began with society flapper Polly Pepper preparing to inherit the Ice Garden diamond necklace for her 18th birthday. The adventure began as Cheater Hayes and Muggs O’Toole attempted to steal the diamond and butted heads with Lieutenant Fluke who did everything possible to defend it. Admist this chaos professional cons the Duke and Duchess of Milford attempted to take Polly’s aunt for $100,000. Will Muggs and Cheater be able to pull off the heist, will the Duke be able to pull the wool over Granvilles eyes, and will Fluke be able to stop them before they strike? These questions were asked and answered by the audiences that couldn’t stop laughing, especially during the love ballad of Buck and Polly.

The final show for the year was a huge hit and was considered the best of the year, not bad if you ask me.

Prom Lucas Armor

On April 2nd the Cov Cath juniors and seniors traveled to The Syndicate in Newport, Kentucky, for their annual Prom. The night started with guests arriving around 8 o’clock with their dates. The Syndicate was nice enough to provide valet parking for those who wished to use it. Once all the guests arrived they were told to take their seats so that dinner could begin to be served. The people in charge were called by tables to get their food from the buffet area. Dinner included a few choice entrees that included roast beef or chicken, salad, green beans, mashed potatoes, and bread. The dinner got positive feedback from the guests as many kids went back for seconds. Once everyone was done eating, it was time to mingle for awhile while the music played and the VCU vs. Butler game came to a close on two jumbo screens that were set up on each side of the room. They had these screens because during Prom the UK vs. UConn basketball game was being played, and many students at Prom wanted to watch it. Unfortunately, the Cats lost 56-55, so there were many sad faces that left that night.

Once Prom got out around 12, the students were invited to go to “After Prom” at the Town and Country Sports Complex in Wilder. At the After Prom there were walk-in door prizes for the Cov Cath students, along with gift baskets for their dates. Some more things at After Prom included inflatable entertainment, a big soccer field, rock climbing, all you can eat buffet, basketball, and just hanging out. At around 1 A.M., all the students were gathered around to watch a Hypnotist Act. The students watched some of their classmates go under a deep trance and act in very humorous ways. Once that was over the students were free to go hang out for another hour or so. The After Prom ended at 3 A.M. and the students all went home to get some much needed sleep.

Overall Prom and After Prom were a huge success. A big thanks goes out to the parents and faculty that helped make this night possible for all the students!
